

DAMP TRACK FOR FIELD DAY

Two Voting Boxes Added to Hope and DeRoan Township

Ward 1 Divided at South Hazel St.—Mo. Pac. Splits County Box

TO EXPEDITE COUNT

Resolution of County Central Committee Authorizes Change Saturday

Two new voting boxes were added for Hope and DeRoan township by the Democratic County Central Committee in session Saturday morning at Hope city hall.

Ward One, the largest voting precinct in the city, was divided into two boxes; as was also Hope Country Box No. 5.

Each box votes between 300 and 400 persons in a county primary and it sometimes requires more than 24 hours to complete the count. It was brought out in discussion preceding the committee's approval of the plan to create two boxes in each precinct. The committee meeting was presided over by the chairman, W. S. Atkins, with 22 of the 36 committeemen present.

How Ward Is Divided

Ward One in Hope has been divided on a line with South Hazel street. All voters residing east of Hazel street, in Ward One, in the City of Hope, will vote at Box 1-B the new box. The original Ward One committeeman, Charles Renfro, becomes committeeman for precinct Hope 1-B.

All voters residing west of Hazel street, in Ward One, Hope, will vote at Box 1-A. This created a place for a new committeeman, and Tom McLary was elected.

The dividing line for Box 5, known as the Hope country box, is the Missouri Pacific railroad. Voters living north of the railroad, in DeRoan township but outside the City of Hope, will vote at old Hope Box 5.

Voters living south of the railroad, in DeRoan township but outside Hope and the three other voting precincts of the township, Centerville, Rocky Mount and Shover Springs, will vote at the newly created box, Hope No. 6. The new committeeman for Box No. 6 is Fred Hunt.

The committee called particular attention to the fact that to be legal a vote must be cast in the box for the precinct in which the voter lives; and citizens are asked to familiarize themselves with the new divisions in Ward One and the Country Box.

3 New Committeemen

J. A. Parker was elected by the committee to succeed S. A. Hudson, resigned, as committeeman from McNab.

N. C. Bryant succeeded Shep Lane, resigned, as committeeman from Blingen, Mine Creek township.

On the petition of a large number of voters from Washington Box No. 1 advised the committee of the serious illness of W. H. Etter, committeeman from that precinct, and recommending the election of L. F. Monroe as committeeman. Mr. Monroe was made the

Flier Grilled In Death of Author

Mother of Haden Clarke Refuses to Accept Suicide Theory

MIAMI, Fla.—(AP)—Investigation into the fatal shooting of Haden Clarke, 26, author, proceeded slowly Friday, while Mrs. Jessie M. Keith-Miller, Australian flier, and Capt. W. N. Lancaster, her flying partner, remained in jail under an official change of plan by State Attorney N. Vernon Hawthorne.

Hawthorne said Friday night he was satisfied of Mrs. Keith-Miller's ignorance of information which might show conclusively whether Clarke, whom she had grown to love during the writing of her life story and whom she planned to marry, was slain or took his life. He questioned Lancaster Friday but was silent as to any developments.

Mrs. Ida Clyde Clarke, mother of the dead man and a professor of journalism here, was quoted by the Miami Daily News as saying she declined to accept without reservation the theory that her son shot himself. She based her stand, she said, on the fact that in inherent dread of firearms would have precluded his adopting this method had he contemplated suicide. She also said she was advised there were no powder burns around the hole in his head where the bullet entered.

Mrs. Clarke was unable to identify positively the signature on one of two notes found on a table near the bed where Clarke lay, and she said she had sent to another son in New York letters written by Haden recently so the signatures might be compared.

Once Busy Market Place

A few years ago the scene of feverish activity... as paper fortunes mounted... the Stock Exchange is quiet these days... and watchful waiting supplants the turmoil of yesterday.

PAUL HARRISON

NEW YORK. While a Senate committee in Washington has investigated practices of securities selling, the New York Stock Exchange itself has been so quiet you could hear the prices dropping.

Just Waiting
The floor has been tense and nervous, with bear transactions being made almost in silence. Each bit of news from Washington has commanded more attention than buying orders from members' offices.

Would the Senate committee disapprove "short" selling? Would stock sales be taxed? Or could Richard Whitney, president of the Exchange, swing the investigators to his point of view—that "short" selling is essential to a free securities market, and that a tax might so reduce trading that the LITTLE ROCK.—Dr. Samuel G. Boyce Friday night announced his candidacy for re-nomination for Pulaski county coroner in the Democratic primary August 9. He filed his corrupt practices pledge with the county clerk early in the day.

Dr. Boyce, a World War veteran, assumed the office of coroner January 1, 1927. He was elected to three successive terms.

"Two years ago, due to my official duties and physical handicap," Dr. Boyce said, "I was unable to conduct a vigorous campaign. My friends saw fit to return me to office and it is at their urgent request that I am seeking the office for another term."

Association Formed at Newport Will Urge Continued Work on Road

NEWPORT.—The U. S. Highway Department Association was organized at a meeting here Friday of about 30 men, representing the counties north of Little Rock and in southeastern Missouri through which the highway runs, and efforts will be made to get the highway completed. Lante Martin of Jacksonville was elected president and Mrs. W. H. Howze, secretary of the Newport Chamber of Commerce, is secretary.

State Senator McCauley of Carthage, Mo., who organized the good roads campaign in Missouri and is chairman of the organization for that state, and M. Clevlin, secretary of the Good Roads Committee of the Popular Bluff Mo. Chamber of Commerce, spoke.

Five Arkansas counties were represented and Pulaski and Lonoke counties will be asked to join. Ross Lawhon for Pulaski and Jack See for Lonoke, were named temporary chairmen.

County chairmen are: W. A. McCauley, Jackson; C. A. Dixon, Randolph; Ed Sheeks, Clay; Judge F. O. White, White; J. C. Childers, Lawrence.

'Collegiate' Automobiles Conform to Tradition

AMES, Iowa.—(AP)—Maybe the collegiate automobile hasn't been magnified by common reputation after all. Prof. R. A. Moyer, as chairman of a committee working on a model traffic ordinance on the Iowa State college campus, found that of 1,240 student and faculty machines inspected, 75 per cent were defective in some way or other.

LOST TO CARAWAY

Issuance of More Money Advocated to Relieve Stringency

CONWAY.—(AP)—Issuance of more gold, silver and paper money to relieve the present stringency, and a reduction in tariff rates to restore world trade were advocated Saturday by Judge William F. Kirby, candidate for the United States senate, as the two principal measures needed for bringing about a return of prosperity.

The address before an audience in the national guard armory, opened Judge Kirby's campaign to return to the senate, which he left in 1920 when defeated for re-election by the late Senator Thaddeus H. Caraway.

Scarcity of Money

Asserting the scarcity of money is the primary cause of the depression, Judge Kirby said issuance of more would be conducive to an improvement in business.

"If any dollars get loose in circulation government bonds are continually issued to pick them up," he said, "leaving the ordinary man in business in ruinous competition with the government for necessary money to carry on his business," Judge Kirby said.

"The government could increase the circulation of gold, silver and paper money. Any money being issued by the government being as good as any other money and certainly as good as the bonds of the government. There should be the issuance of the money instead of the bonds with the resultant saving in interest. The government might well issue new money in payment of the two billion dollar yearly deficit and let the people rest from further taxation and exactions."

Arkansas Week to Be Observed Here

Kiwanis Club to Feature State Foods Products at Next Dinner

"All Arkansas Products Week" to be observed by the Kiwanis club at its next meeting Friday night, with W. S. Atkins as presiding officer. As nearly as possible only Arkansas foods are to be served by Gus Benier, proprietor of the New Capital Hotel.

This event is being staged to carry out the suggestion made by Luther Ellison, and the South Arkansas Chamber of Commerce, as a gesture toward securing state-wide publicity for the exclusive use of Arkansas grown and manufactured products in the future. The club president, Lyle M. Webb, appointed W. S. Atkins, who is a native son of Arkansas, to preside over this meeting. In doing so, Mr. Webb stated he was an Arkansawyer by preference rather than by birth. Parks Fisher has charge of the program.

In order that the club may arrive at Spring Hill at 7:30 p. m. next Friday, for the first of a series of good will tours, next week's meeting is to start at 6:20 p. m. Since these trips are to be held every other meeting night, the meeting hour has been advanced for the summer.

Miss Harriet Storey furnished the music for Friday's meeting, while Lefel Gentry led in community singing.

The program consisted of a series of impromptu talks by the membership, under direction of Cornet F. Erwin, who had charge of the program. Irwin called on practically every member for a short discussion on "What I Get Out of Kiwanis." Among those who were called on were four former club presidents: W. S. Atkins, John P. Cox, Dewey Hendrix and R. V. Herndon.

Glen of Durham was a guest of the club.

The board of directors, which held a session after the regular meeting, added the following men to regular committees: John Conley, membership; R. V. Herndon, agriculture committee; C. F. Erwin and Joe Floyd, public affairs committee; Lefel Gentry and W. S. Atkins, vocational guidance committee; Elmer Hecht, committee on music; and W. S. Atkins was named on the good will and grievance committee.

Coins Clue to Forgotten Town in Libyan Desert

CAIRO.—(AP)—Proof that the Libyan desert was once inhabited, has come with the discovery by an Arab of old gold coins at a spot fifty miles from the Baharia oasis.

The coins were shown to Professor Junger who thereupon found the remains of what is believed to have been a Roman garrison town. Ruins of 60 buildings have been unearthed.

Mooney Pardon Denied

For the fourth time, a governor of California has refused to grant the pardon pleas of Tom Mooney in spite of his consistent denial that he had any connection with the San Francisco Preparedness Day bombings of 1916, which claimed 10 lives. Shown above is the determined Mooney, left, photographed in the San Quentin prison office of warden James B. Holohan, right. Mooney was peeling potatoes in the prison commissary when the news was flashed to San Quentin from the state capitol in Sacramento, where Mooney's aged mother, wearing a white armband bearing the legend, "My son is innocent," heard Governor Rolph's momentous decision handed down.

House Stirred Up Over Mooney Case

Sabath and La Guardia Hotly Reply to Blanton's Praise of Rolph

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Rolph of California was praised and condemned Friday in the House for his refusal to pardon Tom Mooney, serving a life sentence in prison. Mooney was convicted of participating in the San Francisco Preparedness Day bombing of 1916.

The House was placidly considering an appropriation bill when Representative Blanton, Democrat, Texas, expressed approval of the California governor's decision.

There was a rustle and shouts of "regular order," but before the House went back to the supply measure, Representative Sabath, Democrat, Illinois, and Representative La Guardia, Republican, New York, had attacked Rolph for letting Mooney remain in jail.

"I want to take this opportunity to take my hat off to the governor of California," Blanton said. "He has seen fit to consider the law and the courts of California of more importance than visiting mayors who draw salaries of $50,000 from New York city."

He was referring to the trip Mayor Walker made to the coast to intercede in behalf of the former labor leader.

Representative Sabath was on his feet as Blanton ended.

"I regret," he said, "that the governor of California didn't have the courage to pardon an innocent man."

"No fair minded man, none with the slightest knowledge of law," La Guardia shouted, "can read the record in the Mooney case without becoming indignant and ashamed of the administration of justice."

Public Urged to Read Newspapers

Papers Should Strive to Develop Right Thinking for Readers

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Newspapers of the United States are the natural forum for the discussion of the present economic problems, the American Society of newspaper men said Saturday, in urging by a unanimously adopted resolution that the people look to the press for leadership.

The society asserted that there was nothing to be feared from such a discussion but on the contrary there is danger in the promotion of fallacies by other means available for propaganda.

It was resolved that newspapers through their editorial and news columns should strive to develop right thinking on the part of the reading public.

Preliminaries Run Off Friday in Athletic and Literary Events

WIND UP SATURDAY

Winners in Finals to Be Announced Here Saturday Night

Beneath a cloudy sky, which showed occasional rain, athletes representing 39 southwest Arkansas schools were scheduled to go to the starting mark in the finals of the annual district 10 track meet at Fair Park Saturday afternoon.

Whether many records would fall remained a question to be settled after the annual affair got underway.

Preliminaries for both junior and senior events were held Friday afternoon at Fair Park.

Key H. Hammock, popular football coach of the Monticello Agricultural and Mechanical college, will act as referee of the athletic events. Hammock is well known all over the state, and especially in south Arkansas, where he was a coach at Ouachita college, Arkadelphia.

The athletic meet is under the general supervision of Ben R. Williams of Ashdown, who is president of the district. W. R. Haddix, president of "Oscar" and Miss Beryl Hearn of Hope, who is secretary and treasurer.

Arkansas Week Is Aided by Chamber

Home State Products to Be Featured Tuesday, April 26, Through Friday

Attention of Hope merchants and manufacturers is called to the fact that the four days from next Tuesday, April 26, through Friday the 30th, are designated as "All Arkansas Products Week" by Secretary Joe Floyd of Hope Chamber of Commerce in a circular letter.

Secretary Floyd's letter follows: "The week of April 26 to 29 inclusive has been designated as 'All Arkansas Products Week.' The idea was originated at a recent meeting of the South Arkansas Chamber of Commerce and the entire state is co-operating to make it a real success. All Public Meetings, Banquets and Luncheon Clubs will be served dinners of only Arkansas grown and manufactured products."

"The purpose of the 'All Arkansas Products Week' is to bring to Arkansas a constructive line of judicial publicity and to call to the attention of the people at large the importance of using, so far as possible, our own grown and home grown and home manufactured products. The merchants in the various towns and cities can possibly do more toward accomplishing this purpose than any other class of citizens."

"It is suggested that you begin now and throughout next week feature Arkansas grown and manufactured products in your advertising; make attractive displays of all the Arkansas products you have for sale; call your customers' attention to the fact that the purchase of an Arkansas product helps to build up our own state."

"You are interested in the future development of this community and state along industrial, agricultural, civic and educational lines. To co-operate in this movement will cost you nothing, and surely state-wide co-operation along this line will do much for Arkansas at this time."

"Sincerely yours,

"Joe R. Floyd, Secretary."

Jealousy Figures As Slaying Motive

Many Women Involved in Probe of Brutal Murder of Couple

NEW YORK.—(P)—The names of many women, and hints of jealousies, figured Friday in the amorous labyrinth in which police hope to find the slayers of Edward B. Brinker, Jr., and Miss Rose Weik, who were beaten and stabbed to death last Wednesday on a lonely road north of Mineola, Long Island.

District Attorney Elvin N. Edwards, who convicted "Two Gun" Crowley and conducted the futile quest into the death mystery of Starr Faithful, examined a dozen witnesses, announcing he had a complete picture of the movements of the slain pair up to 10 p. m. the night of the double killing. He would not reveal what he had discovered. His reticence was believed due to his promise to North Shore roadhouse keepers that they need not fear liquor law prosecutions if they will tell what they know.

The only clue the police had was the knowledge that Brinker had many love affairs. From one of them, they believe, there arose a jealousy that led to the killing.

The twice-married victim lived with his second wife, Mrs. Josephine Brinker, though he was known to go out frequently with Miss Weik.

Brinker last was seen at 8:30 p. m. Tuesday night when he went to a restaurant to try to sell an electric sign.

Bert Pickens Will Filed For Probate

Large Part of Wealthy Planter's Property Will Go to Charity

McGEEHEE.—Charitable institutions are expected to profit eventually from the provisions of the will of the late Bert Pickens, wealthy planter and business man, which was filed for probate at Arkansas City Friday. One of the beneficiaries is the Arkansas Children's Home and Hospital in Little Rock.

The will provides that personal property and stock in corporations shall go to his son, R. A. Pickens, and his widow, who was left the country home and lands at Walnut Lake and property in Arkansas City and Dumas, all cash on hand and $10,000.

To an adopted daughter, Barbara, is bequeathed $5,000, and in event of her death the residue will go to the Arkansas Children's Home and Hospital. The residue after she is 25 years old also will go to the hospital.

In consideration of the generosity of the Vick family, whose child was killed by the Pickens automobile in 1927, the sum of $10,000 is bequeathed members of that family, and $600 annually is to be paid James and Mary Mason, old servants of the Pickens family.

The remainder of the estate is placed in trust and 20 per cent of the income is to be distributed annually to charity. Trustees are Ray Maxwell, Walnut Lake; R. H. Wolfe, Tillar, and Lamar Williamson, Monticello. This income will be distributed in proportion named in the will to the Bert Pickens Junior Memorial Methodist church, Dumas; the Monticello Cemetery Association, the Arkansas Children's Home and Hospital, Little Rock, and the Bottom Baptist Orphanage, Monticello.

Forest Reserve Suffers From Fire

2,500 Acres Have Been Burned Over During Past Three Months

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark.—(P)—The Ozark Forest Reserve suffered unusually heavy fire damage during the year. Supervisor H. R. Koen reported.

Approximately 2,500 acres of timber land have been burned over to date in 1932, compared with only 515 acres for the entire calendar year of 1931. Mr. Koen predicted little further damage, as the fire season is about over.

Many of the fires unquestionably were of incendiary origin, Mr. Koen said.

The most disastrous fires were reported in the Moccasin Gap, Fork Mountain and Falling Water sections in Pope and Sevier counties. In the Fork Mountain area a string of fires more than six miles long were blazing at one time.

Pilgrims From Far and Near Visit Old Shrine at Chimayo

Nestled against the foothills of the Sangre de Christo mountains in New Mexico, surrounded by the quaint village of Chimayo, 25 miles north of Santa Fe, is the Santuario (sanctuary), a church built about 1815 upon what is considered sacred ground by natives.

The Santuario was not a mission church built for the Christianizing of the Indians, but was erected as a monument of appreciation for temporal prosperity and good health by a pious man of Chimayo, Don Bernado Abeyta.

A modest little church, 60 feet long and 25 feet wide, with walls of adobe three feet thick, it is probably more widely known among Spanish people throughout the southwest than any other church or cathedral.

Whispers went out that the church and the earth beneath it were miracles of healing, and the church has become a shrine. Pilgrims come from far and near to pray at the altar, and to carry back home a few grains of the precious soil that is supposed to cure all manner of illness.

It is no unusual sight to see from 50 to 100 pilgrims wending their way to the church each day, many footsore and weary, others arriving in state in automobiles or wagons. From as far south as Chihuahua, Mexico, to the northern boundaries of Colorado, they come.

For several generations the church was privately owned. Don Bernado having willed the church to his daughter, Carmen, upon his death. It was the girl's pride and joy and she kept it in perfect order during her lifetime. Within the past few years it has come into the possession of the Catholic church board.

Never have natives of Chimayo encouraged invasion of their shrine by "foreigners." Until recently, one was in grave danger of injury did one dare to even snap a picture of the church. The natives thought it was sacrilege.

Mail Fraud Cases Dropped at Ft. Worth

FORT WORTH.—(P)—Cases against three co-defendants of Clyde B. Mitchell, on trial in federal court for alleged mail fraud, were dismissed Friday when the government failed to prove they had been connected with the mailing of letters on an oil promotion scheme.

They were Jack Fiegel, Jack Kelly and A. C. McGahhey. The government did not dismiss the case against A. Porter Oakes, who obtained a severance earlier in the week because of illness. He is in Wichita Falls, where he underwent an operation for appendicitis. At the opening of the trial the government dismissed the case against a sixth defendant, Wendell H. Dean.

Confesses in Child Murder

Glen Donald Shustrom, 23, confessed he attacked and strangled 12-year-old Alberta Knight of Whiting, Ind., daughter of a neighbor. Shustrom went through many hours of grilling denying complicity in the murder when police confronted him with his fingerprints, photographed at the murder scene.

New Alienists To Enter Massie Case

HONOLULU.—(P)—Behind the scenes in the trial of four persons accused of lynching Joseph Kahahawai, the prosecution Thursday fought the defense contention that Lieut. Thomas H. Massie was insane when he killed the native.

Court sessions were postponed until Saturday at the request of Public Prosecutor John C. Kelley to permit two newly arrived California alienists to prepare evidence.

One is Dr. Joseph Catton, San Francisco alienist who contributed to the testimony that brought a conviction and death sentence to Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd in Phoenix, Arizona.

At least one of the new alienists made arrangements to examine Lieutenant Massie, who had said his mind went blank when he stood before Kahahawai with a pistol and heard the native confess participating in an attack on his wife, Thalia Massie.

Before the postponement was granted the prosecutor asked Judge Charles S. Davis to permit the trial record to show that a paper which Mr. Massie destroyed in a fit of anger on the witness stand was permissible as evidence.

The paper, apparently in Mrs. Massie's handwriting, supposedly told of a rift between herself and her husband a few months before the attack. It was in the form of answers to a psychiatric examination she had taken at the University of Hawaii.

Mrs. Massie had said it was a confidential paper between patient and physician and therefore was inadmissible as evidence.

The Exchange Luncheon Club, on the seventh floor of the building, is enjoying unprecedented prosperity. In boom times it is little patronized, the floor members taking their lunch on the job—a sandwich and coffee brought by a page.

Now, however, it is a simple matter to get away for a couple of hours and still be within easy call of the floor in case the unexpected should happen. Incidentally, no member, regardless of his wealth, is allowed to run up a bill of more than $100 at the club.

Oklahoma Gets Federal Aid on Highway Work

OKLAHOMA CITY.—The Oklahoma congressional delegation has agreed with the federal road bureau upon a plan whereby the $5,000,000 federal aid fund will be restored to the state.

The agreement was announced Thursday night to the United Press by

Plane in Which Capt. Hawks Was Hurt

Overturned and badly smashed as it crashed into a stone wall in an attempted take-off, Capt. Frank Hawks' low-winged monoplane is shown here as it appeared after the famed speed flyer's close brush with death at the Worcester, Mass., airport. Hawks, recovered unconscious from the wreckage, was later reported to be seriously injured but not critically injured. A soggy field was blamed for the aviator's failure to gain the 10-mile-an-hour speed necessary to lift the ten-and-a-half ship off the ground.

It was learned that the new plan will call for construction of four gaps in major highways, as demanded by federal engineers.

ONCE BUSY MARKET

The trading floor is at street level, with elevated balconies for the batteries of high-speed machines which transmit records of stock transactions. Only four of the six machines, manned by skeleton crews of operators, are working now.

Galleries Closed

Above these, on both sides of the huge, high room, are the visitors' galleries. These are deserted, not entirely because of lack of public curiosity, but because they were closed last fall when rumors of a bomb plot struck terror to the crowded trading floor.

For the floor looks crowded, regardless of the small amount of business transacted there. Even the dullest day will find about 3,000 men and boys milling about the seventeen posts and the telephone booths where the floor members maintain contact with their offices. At least 100 of these are ticker men; some 1200 are page, quotation and tube boys.

Killing Time

Many of the brokers (all of whom are identified with big celluloid buttons) are obliged to remain on the floor whether or not they have anything to do.

One gray-haired "specialist," who always may be found at Post No. 1, employs most of his five-hour day in working cross-word puzzles.

On the walls at opposite ends of the main trading room there are large call boards, electrically operated, which flash the numbers of members when they are wanted on the telephone by their offices. On a reasonably busy day in normal times there are at least 300 of these numbers constantly being flashed. Today the average is from ten to twenty-five.

The big lounge and smoking room is always crowded these days. Background has become a popular pastime with the idle floor members. Many of them read magazines glancing up at the screen-projected image of the ticker tape that moves at a snail's pace across one side of the room.

Occasionally a few bored members may be found matching coins—of small denominations. And some of them play a word game on the tape; as the abbreviations of the various securities are flashed on the screen, the first contestant to form a word from consecutive letters wins the stakes.

Lunch Popular Now

The Exchange Luncheon Club, on the seventh floor of the building, is enjoying unprecedented prosperity. In boom times it is little patronized, the floor members taking their lunch on the job—a sandwich and coffee brought by a page.

Now, however, it is a simple matter to get away for a couple of hours and still be within easy call of the floor in case the unexpected should happen. Incidentally, no member, regardless of his wealth, is allowed to run up a bill of more than $100 at the club.

Contrary to common belief, the membership of the Exchange is larger than ever before. In February, 1929, 275 seats were added to the previous total of 1100 to take care of the tremendous volume of trading. It was only recently that all of these seats were disposed of. But from the broker's point of view it is a sad commentary that seats which brought a high of $225,000 in 1929 now are going begging at slightly more than $50,000.

Beard Threatened, Moslem Wed Anyway

BOMBAY.—(P)—An armed guard was necessary Thursday to carry out the Mohammedan marriage of Shaikart Ali, 60, important Moslem leader, and a young attractive Englishwoman.

The first ceremony was stopped when a Mohammedan priest objected that the intended bride, Mrs. Elizabeth Ryan, divorced wife of an Irish police officer, did not comply with religious regulations.

The priest's decision was bolstered further by the threat of the 300-pound Shaikart's son, Zahid Ahmed, to cut off the cleric's beard the greatest possible insult to a Mohammedan. But Shaikart Ali obtained the services of another priest, and placed a guard about the marriage mosque.

Text of Resolution

The text of the resolution adopted by the County Central Committee authorizing the addition of two voting precincts in Hope and DeRoon townships, is as follows:

Whereas Section 64 of the Rules of the Democratic party of Arkansas provides, with respect to the count of ballots that, "The judges and clerks shall begin the counting of the ballots immediately upon the close of the polls, and continue the same to completion," and that if any of said judges or clerks become sick or incapacitated from any other cause, the remaining judges or clerks shall make and continue said count until the same is completed; and

Whereas Box 1 in Ward One in the City of Hope, and County Box No. 5 in the City of Hope poll such a large vote it is impossible for the judges and clerks to comply with said Section 64, of said rules, in the continuation of the count within six or eight hours from the time the counting started, and would enable the judges and clerks to comply with Section 64, of the rules, hereinafter referred to;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, by the Democratic Central Committee of Hempstead County, Arkansas, that a new precinct be created dividing the vote of Ward 1, in the City of Hope, and that said new precinct be designated as Box or Precinct No. 1-A in said Ward, No. 1.

That a new precinct be created dividing the vote now polled in County Box No. 5 and designated as County Box or Precinct No. 6 That a committee for each of said two precincts be selected by this committee to act as committeemen for said two new precincts.

JUDGE KIRBY

Kirby for the loss of foreign trade, through imposition by other nations of retaliatory tariffs. Our tariff, he said, has driven England from the ranks of free trade nations and left the United States without markets.

Judge Kirby said he favored the "continued generous appropriations for wounded and disabled World War veterans," and payment of the adjusted service certificates (bonus) "as soon as possible without disastrous results to the government."

Cancellation of war debts was opposed by Judge Kirby who said "we have done enough for the Allies."

Judge Kirby advocated placing public utilities operating interstate under the Interstate Commerce Commission "for all necessary regulations beyond the power of the states to make."

Judge Kirby, who originally opposed entry of the United States into the World War, defended his record during that conflict, and cited his record as a member of the military affairs committee of the senate. He was designated as the member of congress to write the history of the United States

Feed Need in State To Be Greater in '32

Increased Number of Stock in Arkansas to Need More Feed

The feed needs on Arkansas farms are likely to be greater next year than they are this year, declares T. Roy Reid, assistant Extension director, University of Arkansas College of Agriculture.

There are increased numbers of livestock on most farms in the state which will require additional feed. It must be remembered that the last two winters have been unusually mild, making it possible for livestock to obtain considerable sustenance from the fields and pastures and thus reducing the amount of grain and hay usually fed. Experiences of the past do not lead one to expect another winter as mild as the last two. The winter feed requirements may therefore be increased.

There seems to be a feeling in some places that there was an over supply of feed on Arkansas farms last year, and in other places a general feeling of satisfaction that there is more than the usual supply. The large yields of last year are more responsible for this than was the large acreage.

The possible increased need for feed this winter, coupled with the probability that yields may fall considerably below the high mark of last year, emphasizes the need for making an increase in acreage devoted to feed crops over the acreage of last year.

Taxes and other expenses next spring may be met from the sale of livestock to which this feed has been fed. This is good economy and gives a security especially needed in these times of low prices for cash crops.

Grain Sorghum Is Supplement to Corn

Five Varieties Suggested for Use in This Section of Arkansas

Grain sorghums may be used to supplement the corn acreage for grain production as a partial insurance against drought. Tests conducted by the Experiment Station of the University of Arkansas College of Agriculture, show that when there is a good season for corn, grain sorghums will not produce as much as corn, but when there is a drought grain sorghums will outyield corn. For this reason, it is wise to have some grain sorghums in case of severe drought, says D. J. Burleson, Extension agronomist, University of Arkansas College of Agriculture.

Among the best varieties of grain sorghums are Darso, Sugrain, Gochona, and Hicari.
